

Restriction of laboratory operations

Wednesday, Dec 2, 2020, 12:04PM

Dear Members of the University,

In response to the appeal by the Government to stay home, reduce traveling and gathering for work, the University has already announced staff will work from home beginning from 2 December 2020. Laboratory workers, including postgraduate students, should also follow Government's advice.

Faculty members and laboratory supervisors should restrict laboratory operations to time-critical work only, and follow restriction and prevention measures contained in the 30 March announcement. Undergraduate students taking lab courses should contact the relevant instructors if they need any clarification.

Take care and stay healthy.

Kind regards,

Lionel NI, Provost

Nancy IP, Vice-President for Research and Development